

Take the Family for a Little Latin Getaway

Experience a bit of Brazil north of the equator at the eighth-annual Brasil-Fest, at the Seattle Center. The festival celebrates all things Brazil, with dancing, music, workshops and performances all day. View a Capoeira demonstration, and even attend a workshop to learn the Brazilian martial art. Listen to Brazilian instruments, view arts and crafts and watch a Brazilian movie. Kids won't be bored, either; mask making and painting are just a few of the things for them to do. The free festival happens Sunday, Aug. 19. For more information, visit www.brasilfest.com or www.seattlecenter.com.
